Generally fair and cooler.

NEW YORK, MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1896.—COPYRIGHT, 1896, BY THE SUN PRINTING AND PUBLISHING ASSOCIATION. and Thirty-seventh street, while running through the street.

It was icapred yesterday, through Dr. W. H. Tyler, who keeps a drug store in Second avenue, near Thirty-seventh street, that McCormick first extracted attention to himself by pushing his way through the crowd that had gathered in the Cunningham flat after the murder had been discovered and into the room where the dead girl lay. In that room were only two other percens besides Dr. Tyler.

The other neople had been kept out, but McCormick pushed by them all, according to Dr. Tyler, gave one look at the baby, and then went out. The crowd noticed the man, and when a few moments later he left the house and walked rapidly west along Thirty-seventh street, the crowd followed him. When McCormick saw that he was followed he broke into a run, continuing on to Park avenue, where he was arrested by Politeman Tarpey.

The chief reason for supplicion being fastened upon McCormick is the many condicting statements his has made. His wife said that he had left his house at 5 o'clock in the morning. He told Coroner Dobbe that he left home at 11 o'clock, and later he told inspector Brooks that he had left at 12 o'clock.

He said that he called on his aunt to get her to relieve him for a while in watching by the bedelds of his sick wife, who is very ill with consumption. He said that he was in a hurry to get to his aunt's house, at though, by his own statement, he took nearly swhouler, by his own statement, he took nearly swhouler, and had never seen the girl. He characterized his arrent as an outrage, and said he would be able to prove an adibt. He said that the Brit intunation he had that there was trouble in the floor below.

"I thought at first," he added "that it was an ordinary tensment, house row. My aunt maked to the door when she heard the acreams, and, as I looked out the floor, I saw a number of other tensmit of the way and looked over the bankler. I saw a number of other tensmit and the heart of the way and looked over the bankler. I saw a number of other te

NOT ENOUGH COFFINS IN THE CITY TO BURY THE DEAD.

VOL. LXIII.-NO. 275.

Corrying the Living Victims of the Money Tragedy to Mospitals-Many Children us the Bend-Frightful Moones on the Plain-The Cear's Ald and Sympathy.

low, May 31.—The city has not yet recorered from the shock cocasioned by the frightful calamity that occurred yesterday on the Ho-dynsky Plain during the progress of the great free feast and entertainment in connection with the ceronation ceremonies given at the expense of the Czar to whomsoever desired to partake. The full extent of the disaster was not exaggerated in the first reports. As announced in these despatches yesterday, the reporter of the United Press was an eyewitness of the stampede of the great multitude of people gathered on the plain, estimated to have numbered fully 500,000, and the night was one never to be forgotten for its

After the crowd had been dispersed by the police and military the field was strewn with the dead who had been killed by being crushed, trampled upon, or by suffocation. A great number of children were among the victims. In the wild rush of the frenzied growd they wer swept away from their parents or others having charge of them, and their puny strength availed them naught when pitted against the irresistible force of the surging mob. The in-stant they stumbled and fell life was crushed

But this was also the case with many adults No human strength could withstand the mad carush of the crowd, and safety could alone be allowing one's self to be carried fo ward and back in the pulsating crowd, devoting every energy to keeping upon one's feet.

The officials made every effort and offered every facility for the identification of the dead, but the bodies in hundreds of instances are utterly unrecegnizable, the faces having been literally crushed out of all semblance to huanity. A careful search is made of each body r papers to establish its identity, and a record de of the clothing on each body for the Ir was officially announced this morning that the total number of victims was 1,138. Most of them were mouliks from the provinces, a poor class of people, but among the number were many of the poverty-stricken residents of w and villages in the neighborhood of the city. The fête was particularly for the benefit of this class of the population, and the middle class generally held aloof from the cutertain-ment or class visited the plain in the capacity

The scene in the city last night and to-day had been a most painful one. The injured and large numbers of the dead were taken to the hospitals and other charitable institutions, and thither have gone thousands of persons seeking rela-tives or friends, hoping that the missing once would be found among those who were only hurt, but dreading the worst. Many affecting scenes were witnessed when it was found that these who were thought to be dead were still times when a body was recognized by a more frequently a mother whose little one had been torn away from her and its young one had been torn away from her and its young life crushed out, the scene was heartroading. The stolid demeasor of the Russian peasant would vanish, and the low, plaintive wailing and deeds of tears would bear wissens to the britis piref experienced.

For into the plaint ambulances, fire trucks, and other whicles were basily engaged conveying the deed and injured into the city.

The reporter of the United Press ween again to the Plain to-day and saw one of the effects of to the Plain to-day and caw one of the effects of the mad runh; The ditches of the abandoned sarthwarks on the Plain had been filled to the evel with the bodies of those who had been driven into them by the awful pressure from behind. Here those who were not crushed to death were sufficiated by the dead and dying above them. In the passages between the booths from which the free food was distributed there men, women, and children women and chil-dren predeminating. Some of the bodies were ating. Some of the bodies were frightfully distorted, and on the dead faces there were looks of fear and horror. The sight was altegether a most grewsome one. The sisthing had been torn to shreds and the bodies were in a semi-nude condition.

The assertion is repeated to-day that Ithe were not on the scene in sufficiently bers at an early hour to handle the growd. It is a fact that there were only a com-paratively few of them present at 6 o'clock in the morning, at which time the disaster occurred. There were then about a thousand atndants engaged in distributing the gifts of the Cuar to the importunate mob, and to them the calamity is indirectly attributable. When the thousands of persons in the rear b-gan to press forward upon those in front and a number of the latter were crushed against the barriers the shricks of the injured and the groans of the dying oaused the attendants to become stricken with terror, they dreading what afterward actually occurred—the breaking down of the sarriers by the enormous human pressure upon them. In fear of their lives, they threw thousands of the memorial cups filled with mead, beer, &c., at the struggling mass of humanity in attempts to drive them back. This led to s wild scramble in the crowd. The immense quantity of liquids thus thrown formed a sort of pond in front of the long line of booths and ered the ground alippery and treacherous making a foothold very precarious. A great escaped thus fell to the ground, where life was rushed out of them by the howling, fren-

In some parts of the Plain the ground tooks as though it had been newly ploughed. This is shoes of the peasants in their wild excitement So great has been the rush of visitors at the bosoitals to-day in search of missing relaphysicians was seriously interrupted. This fternoon, therefore, the authorities gave order for the trausfer of the unclaimed bodies to the ogankoffsky Cemetery, where they will re-nain for a time to enable them to be identified.

The feeling of the Moujiks was very bitter against the authorities, who, they held, had no aken sufficient precautions to guard against an affair such as occurred. As a matter of fact however, the authorities were in nowise to plame. It was impossible for them to forese that such a great multitude would be present at such an early hour, but at any rate the precautionary measures adopted would have been suf-ficient had not the people become so frensied. After the disaster the large force of military and police had the greatest difficulty in restor-

The Caar's promise to help the bereaved families, coupled with the published expression of his intensegrief and deep sympathy, has allayed feeling, and the people are warmly grateful to him for his action.

As announced in yesterday's despatches, his Majesty has ordered that the sum of 1,000 rouples be paid to each family that has lost a mem ber through the catastrophe. In addition, the State will pay the expenses of burying the dead. while the physicians at the hospitals and else where have been instructed to spare nothing to alleviate the sufferings of the injured.

Although the official report places the num-er of dead at 1,136, it is highly probable that the exact number of viotims will never be known. The Vice-Mayor says that 1,300 per-sons were killed and 200 seriously, perhaps

1,282 KILLED AT MOSCOW. many deed and injured who were removed by friends. It would not be surprising if the num-ber of deaths was largely in excess of the official swelled when those who have lost members of their families apply for the relief promised by

> Every measure will be taken to prevent swinflers from attempting to benefit by the charity of his Majesty, and ample proof of death will have to be submitted to the authorities

> Thirty bodies were found to-day in an old disused well in the middle of the plain. The well had been covered with planks, which had collapsed when the crowd passed over them. Some of the victims had in their hands, clutched with a death clasp, the memorial cups which had been presented to them at the booths before the

Among the bodies in the well were two living persons, who had been made insane by the horror of their position. Their ravings when rescued were terrible to hear.

Great efforts were made throughout the day to clear the Plain, but late this afternoon it was still littered with fragments of elething, boots, rictuals, and human bair. In some places where the crush was greatest the ground was soaked with the blood of those shose life had been trodden out. Large crowds of people, many of them attracted by morbid riosity, were hovering about the field all day. The foreign correspondents received every actity for learning the details of the calamity. and the special badges that were issued to them were everywhere recognized as giving the wearers privileges that heretofore it has not been ustomary to grant to members of the cress. The reporter of the United Press went to-day to the Vogankoffsky Cemetery where a great imber of the dead had been transferred from the bospitals and the plain. Many of the injured were also taken to this cemetery, the hospitals being so crowded that it was impossible to and accommodation there for them.

The scene was a sad one. The cametery on suples a space of about eight acres, and all the paths were guarded by armed soldiery. The ground was thickly occupied by the living and Physicians who were present were busily en-gaged in setting broken bones, sewing up and dressing gaping wounds, and otherwise attending to the wants of the injured." So great was the demand for medical and surgical assistance that physicians and surgeons were requisitioned from other cities and towns.

The dead were placed in long lines upon the ground. There were very few coffins to be seen. in fact the supply of coffins and caskets was exhausted early yesterday, and to-day it is im-The bodies were covered with sheets and the ong lines of white-shrouded dead presented a ghastly' spectacle. Here alone the number of exceeded the official figures, for in the rows there were 1,282 victims. An immense crowd slowly and continuously passed along the paths on both sides of which the bodies were laid, seeking for some lost one.

eagerly scrutinize the faces of the dedd to see if the features were those of the ones for when The sight presented by the withdrawal of the overings was a fearful one. The faces and imbs of the dead were horribly mutilated, and the clothing was in shreds. In most cases the disfiguration was so great that it was impossible

o identify the bod At various points in the cometery priests were offering prayers for the dead. It was necessary that many of the bodies should be buried as epecdity as possible, and after the interments had commenced the famous priest, Father John, of Groastadt, the "Miracle Wurker," passed among the mourners blessing and consoling

At the request of the Caar there will be a solin the Kremlin to-morrow morning. All the

The Hishop of Peterborough, who is in Moscov s the representative of the Established Church of England, preached a sermon in the English thurch here to-day. Among those who were present were the Duke of Connaught, who represents his mother, Queen Victoriat; he Duchese of Connaught, and their suite. A collection was taken up for the benefit of the sufferers and a goodly sum was raised. The statement that the disaster would bring the coronation festivities to a close has not the slightest basis in truth. The functions have not een stopped. A ball was given at the French

Embassy last evening.

It was attended by the members of the imperial family, the foreign princes, diplomats, and the highest Russian and visiting aristocracy. The function was one of the most brilliant that has taken place in connection with the corons tion ceremonies. LONDON, May 31.-The Daily News will tomorrow publish a despatch from Moscow saying that the Chief of Police is reported to be in utter despair over the terrible catastrophe and that he has attempted to commit suicide. The despatch adds that many of the attendanta at the booths are among the dead. Some of the booths were broken into splinters by the esistless rush of the crowd.

It further says that the great ball given by the French Ambassador was, owing to political reasons, not cancelled. It was also determined that it should be held lest the disaster be supnosed to have been even greater than it ac So far as known, not a single foreigner was

A trench a hundred yards long has been due in the cemetery, and in this a majority of the aprecognised dead will be interred. Some accounts of the affair represent the rush in an ugly aspect. These reports are that hun-dreds of persons broke into the booths, pillaging them of their contents, regardless of the shricks of the injured and dying.

Many of the peasants who received memorial cups are now offering to sell them for a ruble nd a half as souvenirs not only of the coronation, but of one of the most terrible catastro phes in the annals of Russia. They find ready purchasers.

The stelld and callous demeanor of the mouilks and others in the face of the disaster is such commented upon by those who are not familiar with the character of the Russian

One newspaper correspondent questioned a doujik who was carrying a child from the Hpdynaky plain after the tragedy as to whether he d been in the crush. The man replied that he had not, but, instead of being thankful that he and his child had escaped an awful death, he complained of what he termed his and suck in not receiving a cup, although he had tramped thirty verste in the expectation of getting one, in addition to an unlimited quantity of free food and drink.

As an offset to this callousness, however, there have been several instances reported of heroic rescues of women and children from the fate that befell so many hundreds of their com-

Bustin, May 31.- The Emperor has telegraphed the Czar a message of sympathy and prow at the unfortenate disaster upon the ocpasion of the popular fête on the Hodynsky Pinin at Moscow yesterday.

A Sleep Walker Fails Through an Ele-vator Shaft.

Henry Manning, 50 years old, who was em-Heary Manning, 50 years old, who was employed in George Meincken's livery stable at 87 Webster avenue, Jersey City, fell through the elevator shaft yesterday afternoon to the fleor below, and received mortal injuries. His spins was fractured, and it was said at the City Hospital that he could not recover. Manning slept in a little room over the stable. He lay down to take a nap, and it is thought that he may have been walking in his cleep when he fell through the shaft.

IS EITHER THE STRANGLER?

ABREST OF A NEIGHBOR FOR MARY CUNNINGHAM'S MURDER.

The Prisoner Mas a Key to the Cunningham Pint-Roth Me and the First Suspeet Say They Can Prove an Althi-Bishop Farley Refers to the Murden,

There was a knot of white grane at the door and the shutters were drawn yesterday at the windows of the little flat at 315 East Thirtyeventh street in which little Mary Cunningham, who was murdered on Saturday, lay dead, All day, from the time the worshippers at St. Gabriel's, over the way, gathered for early mass until long after nightfall, a crowd, large enough to make the street well nigh impassable, loitered in front of the house discussing the crime.

Eight detectives, under the personal direction of Acting Inspector Brooks, spent the day in trying to fathom the mystery that surrounds the murder. Previous experience of the detectives counted for little, for they found them-selves confronted by the fact that the criminal history of New York contains but two cases that are at all parallel to this one. One is the murder of Susie Martin and the other is the murder of a young girl who was killed on the west side of town several years ago, and when the body was discovered one of the organs was

After the arrest of Edward McCormick on Saturday as a suspicious person, Inspector Brooks received information that led to the arrest yesterday afternoon of Francis P. Farrell. 23 years old a printer by trade who lives with his father, brother, and aunt in the tene-ment of which Mrs. Cunningham is the janitress. Farrell said on Saturday that he had anoken to the murdered wirl about 10 o'clock in he morning while she was cleaning the lower hall of the house.

Suspicion was first directed to Farrell by a statement Mrs. Cunningham made to inspector Brooks. It is supposed that the murderer made his escape from the Cunningham flat, which is on the west side of the house on the ground floor, by jumping out of one of the kitchen windows opening upon a rear court. A narrow, steen flight of steps leads from this court to a door which opens into the cellar of the house. This door is supposed to be always locked, and up to a few weeks ago it was supposed that the only person having a key to the door was Mrs. Cunningham. It is not possible to open the door from the outside.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Cunnifigham, changing to look out her kitchen window, saw Farrell let a cat out of the cellar from that door. She wondered how Farrell was able to open the door and asked him. He told her that he had made a key to the door and showed it to her. It was an ordinary steel key. When Mrs. Cunningham saw the key she said :

Why, that key looks just like the one that unlocks the rear door of my fiat."

The rear door of the Cunningham flat opens into the kitchen. It has a double lock, one with a spring, and the ordinary bolt lock. The key was tried, and it was found that it would throw As the sheets were removed the living would back the bolt in the lower lock. Mrs. Cunning ham didn't just like the idea of any tenants having a key that would admit them to her flat, but she said nothing, not wishing to offend young Farrell. When it was first learned that the cellar door, When it was first learned that the cellardoor, usually kept closed and locked, with Mrs. Cunningham supposedly the only person having a kep to it, was open on the day of the murder, the police believed that if they could find who had a key to that door they would have an ant clue to the murderer. The Inspector immediately began to make further inquiries about Farrell and his whereabouts on the day of about Farrell and his whereabouts on the day of the murder.

The tenant of the east flaton the ground floor, opposite to the Cunningham flat, is a Mrs. Mc Corrilck, no connection of the McCormick who was arrested on Saturday on suspicion of know-ing something about the murder, Mrs. Mc-Cormick told the inspector that she believed that Farrell had seen Mary Cunningham later on Saturday than 10 o'clock, the hour that he said he had last seen her.

"What makes you think so?" asked the In-spector.

"What makes you appeter." What makes you appeter.

"Because I saw him taking to her on the front of the porch as late as 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Accormick's statement interested Brooks almost as much as that of Mrs. Cunningham. He returned to the station house her for Farrell. The young man was close-

Brooks almost as much as that of Mrs. Cunningham. He returned to the station house and sent for Farrell. The young man was close-if queetioned, and he told what appeared to be a straight story. If the story is true, Mrs. McCormick is mistaken. Farrell said that he came down from his father's flat about 10 o'clock. His father was with him.

At the street entrance, the father, whose name is John Farrell, remembered that he had left his tobacco up stairs and asked young Farrell to go for it. The son did so and then said that he would go down to a barbor shop in Thirty-lourth street, between First avenue and the river, to get shaved. Farrell usually gets shaved at this shop.

According to his story, the young man says he went directly to the shop. When he reached there he found all the chairs full and a number waiting to have work done. When his turn came Farrell got shaved and left the shop about a quarter to 12 o'clock. From the barber shop. Farrell says he walked up First avenue to the corner of Thirty-seventh street and stood there for some time. He was met there by his younger brother Peter, about 11:55. The younger brother for some time. He was met there by his younger brother Peter, about 11:55. The younger brother had been down to Thirty-eighth street and fifth avenue watching the Decoration Day parads.

After talking for a moment, Frank Farrell

After talking for a moment, Frank Farrel told his brother that he thought he would go home to dinner, and started to walk west along. Thirty-seventh street. Peter stood on the corner for a short time and then followed himself to the stood of the corner for a short time and then followed himself to the short time and the stood of the short time and the s

After talking for a moment, Frank Farrell told his brother that he thought he would go home to dinner, and started to walk west along Thirty-seventh street. Peter stood on the corner for a short time and then followed his brother, who was only about 200 feet ahead of him and plainly in sight, home.

The brothers reached the house about the same time. When they arrived at the flat Miss Farrell, the boys' aunt, told Frank that the grocer, whose shop is at 317 Fast Thirty-seventh street, had neglected to send up some potatoes she had ordered, and, as she wanted them for dinner, she saked her elder nephew to go down for them. The young man did so. The aunt walted for ten minutes, and when the potatoes did not come ahe looked out of the front window to see if she could see anything of her nephew. She saw him standing on the street listening to the music of a hand organ. She called him and asked where the potatoes up himself, as his aunt was in a hurry for them. He took the basket containing the vegetables to the dumb waiter in the main hall of the house, sent them up stairs, and then went up himself.

A short time after that dinner was served. After clinner the young man, according to his story, went into the parior, lay down on the lounge, and began reading a commotion in the hail below attracted the sitention of all the Farrells, and, with every one else in the house, they ran down to the first floor to find that Mary Cunning has will be able to prove a perfect allbi, accounting for his whereabouts at the time the girl must have been murdered, between 10 A. M. and 2 P. M., by the testimony of the elder Farrell, and of the grocer.

Inspector Brooks admits that Farrell's story, if true, completely exonerates him from all connection with the murder. The last time young Farrell did any work was for a firm at 132 West Fourteenth street. That was nearly two years ago, Farrell gives as his reason for not having worked in the mean time that his mother, who died of consumption two months ago, needed constant attention, and

BURYING ST. LOUIS'S DEAD.

A STREAM OF SAD PROCESSIONS TO THE OFMETERIES.

Fifty Thousand Strangers Spont Sunday t the City Viewing the Euton-8,500 Persons Received Rettef Kesterday-Non of the Large Metete Suffered Damage

Sr. Louis, May 31.-Grand and Florissant avenues, the main thoroughfares of Bellefon taine and Calvary cometeries, were covered to day with a continuous stream of carriages fol lowing the victims of the tornade to their last resting places. The appearance of the hearses in the sad procession alone marked the points where one funeral party ended and another began. There was a sunless sky, and the sombre clouds dripped a misty rain, as if nature was reeping at her own dreadful work. Fifty-one of the victims were buried to-day in this city and thirty-nine in East St. Louis.

The work of searching the ruins has gone steadily on. Two hundred workhouse prison-ers were set at work upon the ruins of the City Hospital. Health Officer Starkloff is of the opin-ion that a number of bodies are under the ruins and the work was pushed with vigor. Up to 6 P. M. no bodies were found. Lack of labor in East St. Louis hampers search work. The labor agitator is abroad in that city, and his infamou work has had its effect, as in some cases $1 ar our was demanded for searching the ruins. Three patients died in St. Mary's Hospital in East St. Louis to-day. They were John Kelley, Mrs. Ellen Hennessy, and Adolph Hanschel. Most of the work there is directed to searching other buildings about the eastern approach of the Eads bridge. All the railroads have placed on sale "tor nado rate" tickets at all points within a radius of 250 miles of St. Louis, and to-day there are the roins of the Vandalla freight depot and 50,000 strangers here viewing the ruins. Relief work has been systematized. Dr. W. W. Royd. Chairman of the committee, says that 3,500 deserving applicants received assistance to-day. The fund for this purpose this morning footed up $91,568. The mails are beginning bring subscriptions from the whole country. believed that the citizens of this city will be able to care for all without appealing for out side aid. .

The exaggeration of damage to large buildings and hotels by newspaper correspondents is the cause of much indignation. Not one large hotel in this city suffered even temporary in person with bloody fingers could have left those marks on the shirt. The shirt was also badly torn.

McCormick's finger nails were scraped and the scrapings will be terned over to-day to Chemist Leferle of the Beard of Health. The autopay made yesterday be Coroner's Physician Weston showed three deep and broad scratches on the girl's threat, from which blood had flowed.

At the 11 o'clock service in St. Gabriel's Church, of which Mary Cunningham was a communicant and at whose school she was being educated, the Rev. Father John Dunn celebrated his first mass. Father Dunn was bern and raised in the parish in which the murder was committed.

He recolved his early education at St. Gabriel's Academy, and from there went to the seminary. Bishop Farley was present at the service, and just before Father Dunn was to say mass Bishop Farley was present at the seminary. Bishop Farley was present at the service, and just before Father Dunn was to say mass Bishop Farley said:

"My friends, Father Dunn is one of your own boys. He was born and brought up among you, and you have seen him elect to do the work of one of God's ministers in the world. Yesterday he was ordained to the priestbood and he chose to say his first mass in the church where he worshipped when a boy. Under ordinary circumstances, this would be for him an occasion of gladness and of joy. It is, however, in a sense, one of sadness. Just over the way, within the shades of the cross of the church and only a few doors from where Father Dunn's boyhood home was a cold and brutal murder has been committed.

"The assassin has taken the life of one of the loveliest characters in the parish. God's ways are not our wars, and He does all things well, but we cannot see, with our mortal understandings, why he permits the doing of such awful deeds.

"We cannot understand why He permits innocent lives to be taken while their murderer. My prayer is that he may be speedily captured and speedily nonished; that the life he has taken may be avenued." The Convention auditorium, which was represented in some newspapers to be obliterated, is reported to be only slightly damaged. Con-tractor McCune has repaired the building, and o-morrow it will be turned over to the Busines Men's League ready for occupation. The city is rapidly recovering from the shock of the disas ter, and very soon the storm will be only a date

The steady must and rain found hundreds of families unprotected, save by hastily constructed lean-tos against the few remaining walls. Some were provided with tents. Three hundred of these were sent up from Jefferson Barracks

The Provident Association, the Business Men's League and the Public Relief Committee have provided for 150 families, each receiving food sufficient for two weeks and such shelter a could be secured. All the transfer and express companies, have hauled from the few belong of the sufferers who have secured rooms.

WENT MAD IN THE STORM.

Coochman Searley Made (attant by Light-

William Scarler, coachman for the Misse

Coloroft of 147 Medison avenue, was removed resterday to Bellevue Hospital from his room econd street, to be treated for insanity.

over the Colcroft stables, at 30 East Thirty

He went to bed at 10 o'clock Saturday night.

ing Thirty-second street. Shortly after mid-night he got out of bed and closed the window lightning, having been hadly frightened in his

After closing the window he went back to bed storm became more violent, and shortly before

2 o'clock he was awakened by a thunder clap that seemed to shake the building. With the thunder came a flash of lightning that lit up

Scarler appare from his had and accessmen

His eldest daughter, Maggie, who slept in as adjoining room, found him rolling on the fluor

"Maggie! Maggie!" shouted the coachmar

'I'm full of lightning! For God's sake help me! It struck me, and I feel electricity running hrough my body. For God's sake help me

The girl got a bottle of alcohol from the close and began to rub him. Scarler writhed on th floor, and in piteous tones begged his daughter to rub his thest harder. The girl finally called her 14-year-old sister, and sent for a neighbor

A man and his wife living pext door hurried t the Scarler house. When they entered the ered them out, telling them that the room was room Scarler jumped up from the floor and or full of thunder and that he was full of light ning. A physician who was called in adminis tered a sedative. The doctor said that th coachman's mind had been unbalanced by the coachman's mind had been unbalanced by the shock of being suddenly awakened from his sleep by the thunder and lightning.

Toward six o'clock Scarler became very vicient and ran up and down the room acreaming. His younger children becoming frightened ran into the street. Policeman McMahon of the West Thirtieth street station saw the two little girls on the sidewalk in their nightdresses, and when he learned their story he went up to Scarter's room, around which the coachman was rushing, threatening to cut the electricity from his body with a knife. The policeman saw he had a maniac to deal with, and telephoned to the police station for help. Six men came in the patrol wagon.

Scarler, who is 44 years old, is powerfully built, and he gave the seven policemen a hard tussle to wet him into the patrol wagon. His daughter Maggle went with him in the patrol wagon to the hospital to quiet him.

At the hospital the doctors attributed his sudden insanity to the thunder and lightning. They though the would recover his senses in a few days.

The Misses Colcroft, who were out of town.

days.

The Misses Colcroft, who were out of town were telegraphed for, and they will return to day. In the mean time Coachman Scarler's children will be cared for by the neighbors.

BLOCKED BY A BOULDER.

Track Had to Be Built Around It B

BRIDGEPORT, May 31 .- A boulder on the tracks of the Derby extension of the Berkshire division of the Consolidated Railroad near Stevenson station last night blocked the track so completely that before travel could be to sumed a temporary track had to be construct ed around the obstruction. On Friday night passenger train struck a boulder on the trac near the same place. It had been loosened by Mrs. Ingram's 100.Bay Fast.

Rub my chest with alcohol," the room.

Attendance at all the churches was unusually arge and the services were memorial in char acter. Dr. Schuyler, Dean of Christ Church Cathedral, held a special service at which a large sum was contributed to swell the relie ound in mind and body. He slept in a front Two services at Pilgrim Congregational room, his bed being close tes window overlook-Church yielded nearly $1,000, Contribution were made in all the churches and pledges wer iven to continue the relief until need ceased because of the thunder storm that was brewing. During nearly all his life he has had a horror of Arrangements have been made by every society church, and guild in the city for benefit enter tainments. youth by a severe storm when he was at work

A panic was prevented to-night at Union Sta tion by the prompt work of a special detail of fifty policemen. . The 50,000 visitors who had and was soon sleeping soundly. As he stept the viewed the ruins gathered at the station a & o'elock

The Midway, the grand hall on the second floor, the waiting rooms, and every passageway were packed with people. It was impossible to open the gates. Assistant Chief Kiely mar-shalled his men at the Twentieth street en trance and began forcing the crowd through the baggage tramway to the train sheds, I took haif an hour to relieve the pressure.

Women fainted, children screamed, and me fought. Three women were injured and eight children were separated from their friends. There are probably a thousand strangers in the lower half of the city to-night wandering help-

COURIER-JOURNAL'S LAMENT.

Kentucky Henceforth Republican-Arraign

LOUISVILLE, May 31 .- The Courier-Journa n an editorial article to be published to-morrow gives up future Democratic success in Kentucky. It save the State is from now on in the Republi can column. The article says in part:

"They (the Democrate) have repudiated the only President the Democratic party has elected and seated for fifty years. They have repu diated the most distinguished of Kentucky's living sons and the greatest Democratic intellect in the United States. They have spit upon the fathers of the party whose name and organization they claim, have proclaimed Jefferson an ignoramus, Jackson a conspirator. Benton a knave, and Cleveland a traitor. For the faith handed down through a hundred years of glorious party history, they have substituted a fad rejected by every intelligent civilization on the globe, and for the exponents of that faith they have substituted such apostles of populism as Stewart, such exhorters of socialism geld.

"Saturday's work makes Kentucky Republi can for years. Before Saturday Bradley ism was dead, but Saturday made i possible for any Republican to carry Kentucky over a party which binds itself to the corpse of free silverism. The one thing now for Kentucky Democracy is that th Chicago Convention shall not ratify its stupen duous blunder, and that chance seems all too

FOX HUNT IN CENTRAL PARK. It Was a Tame Fox. So Policeman Gorma

About a week ago a resident of West Ninetiet street lost a pet fox and advertised for its recovery. Park Policeman Gorman, while on th West Drive, near Ninety-sixth street, about & P. M. yesterday, saw the fox in the shrubber bordering the drive.

When Gorman approached the fox, thinking to make an easy capture, the fox darted across the lawn and took refuge behind a heap of rocks When the policeman gave chase the anima made a dash for another clump of shrubbery For more than an hour the fox eluded Gorman but finally the policeman captured him. Gorman took his prize to the menagerie for the night.

Lightning Kills a Policeman NEWPORT, May 31,-Policeman William Hen near the same place. It had been loosened by the heavy rain and fell from the steep hill-side.

Yesterday the engineers on the division had orders to run alowly in that vicinity. Last night Engineer Burns was running slowly, and just as the train was rounding a curve a big mass of rock loomed up on the track. The train was brought to a standstill before it struck the obstruction. Investigation showed it to be a huge rock. A wreoker was ordered from New Haven. On it was a derrick capable of iliting twenty-eight tone, but it was unable to remove the boulder. A temporary track was constructed around the obstruction and travel resumed. To-day blasts were put in the boulder and it was broken in small pis.es and removed. It is estimated that the boulder weighed one hundred tons. ry Dewick was standing in the bedroom of his me playing with his child at 5 o'clock yester La Pours, Ind., May 31.-Mrs. Henry Ingran day afternoon when a bolt of lightning entered of Calboun county, Mich., to-day entered upon the 100th day of her fast. During this period she has not taken food and does not appear to need anything to est. the house, struck him in the forehead, and tilled him instantly. The child was unharmed.
The bolt left no mark on the house except such as a builet would have made.

OIRL RILLED BY A TROLLEY CAR. SHELLS SPED AFTER HER.

From a Window Hor Father Sees the Body Under the Car and Recognises It. Four-year-old Minnie Ehrmann, whose parents live at 111 Bleecker street, Brooklyn, was killed near her home by a trolley car of the Nassau road yesterday afternoon. A few min-utes before the accident her mother dressed her and let her go out to play. She went over to the corner at Central avenue and Bleecker street. She was called by a playmate on the opposit side of the street and started to cross the trac just as a car in charge of Motorman Edward Cooley, going toward Evergreen Cemetery, was coming down a grade. Cooley says he didn't see the child until he was within a few feet of her. Then he shouted, threw off the curren and applied the brakes.

It was of no avail. The basket fender struck the girl at her waist, knocked her down, and be-fore the car could be stopped, her head was crushed under the motor box. The screams of the girl's playmates caused her father to look out of a front window. He saw the girl under the car, and recognised her by her dress. Before he reached the car the dead body was extricated. He picked it up to carry it home when Deputy Coroner Rogers, who happened to be near, relieved him of the burden and carried it to Ehrmann's rooms.

Ehrmann and his wife both fainted when the latter saw the body.

Calley was arrested, and at the station house he barst into tears. He said he tried with all his might to prevent the accident, and insisted that was corroborated by the conductor and some Ehrmann has five other children. His wife was prostrated last night, and it was feared might not survive the shock.

FLEMING JUROR HURY.

Richard M. Montgomery Thrown from Carriage and Slightly Injured. WEST BABYLOS, L. I., May 31.-While Mr.

and Mrs. Richard M. Montgomery of New York were ariving through this place en route to their country home at Bayshore to-day the borse shied and the carriage was overturned. Mrs. Montgomery struck the ground on her head and shoulders and received a number of painful cuts and bruises about the face and shoulders. She was carried in a semi-consciou ondition to the office of Dr. Alden J. Woodruff and later was conveyed on one of the afternoon trains to her home in New York. Mr. Mont gomery, who is one of the jurors in the Fleming murder trial, was only slightly injured. The horse was caught after he had run a shore

KILLED BY A TOMBSTONE.

Little Mary Cuestdy Crushed While at Play in a Tombstone Yard,

A number of children were playing yesterday fternoon in Martin Adams's tombetone yard opposite the main entrance to the Hudson coun ty Catholic cemetery in Westside avenue, Jer sey City. One of the tombstones got loosened from its base by the pulling and hauling the childred gave it and toppled over on four-yearold Mary Cassidy of 63 Giles avenue.

The screams of the children attracted the atention of some men, who lifted the stone from the child. An ambulance was summoned to take her to the City Hospital, but she died fore reaching there.

FORTY MORSES BURNED.

Penged on the Second Story of a Ber Boarding Stable. The boarding stable at 319 and 321 East Fifty-third street got aftre abortly before midnight last night. Before the firemen arrived several citizens and a policeman liberated some of the horses on the first floor and drove them into the street. About forty horses which were stalled on the second floor were burned. The fire had gained such headway that four alarms were turned in Mrs. Herman Bohlman, a widow, owns the building, and her son kept the boarding stable The damage to the building is $25,000. The value of the horses burned is not known.

KILLED BY AN ELECTRIC WIRE. Contact with It.

Sr. Louis, May 31.-One person was killed, one fatally injured, and two were seriously injured vesterday afternoon in a panic on an electric car on the Carondelet line. The trolley wige sengers, who rushed out. Miss Veronica Pavelock 17 years old came in contact with the quette, 17 years old, sustained a compound fracture of the skull and will did; Miss Blanche Cloquette, her sister received a scale wound Oswald Vatt, a butcher, had his right shoulder dislocated. BOY BURGLAR NARBED.

He and His Two Pals, Who Escaped, Hod Bug Through an 6-inch Wall Hop Lee caught three boys yesterday in the act of rifling the money drawer of the laundry at 3 James slip. The Chinaman managed to capture one, but the others got away. In the pockets of his prisoper, who was a lad of 12 years, named Eddie Wall, were 51 cents that had been taken from the till.

When taken in charge by a policeman, the boy said that he and his two companions had made a hole big enough to crawl through in an eight-inch brick wall in the rear of the aundry, and then got in the place through a window. The other boys, he said, were "Nig ger Joe" and "Lefty" Pretorious. The lad was sent to the Gerry society headquarters, and the police started to look for his com-

SHOT IN HIS RIFLE WALLERY. Mathias Faustit of Concy Island Gots Little Builet in His Back.

Mathias Fausitt, aged 10 years, of 16 East Eighty-fourth street, received a small bullet in his back last evening in his shooting gallery or Coney Island. The shot was fired by seventeen year-old Edward Morrissey of 161 street, who was arrested and locked up in the Gravesend police station.

Morrissey had had some trouble in the gallery and the young proprietor ordered him out.
Morrissey then, as it is alleged, ploked up one of the small rifles used in the gallery, and fred at him just as he had turned his back. Faneitt was taken to the Norwegian Hospital. The wound is not considered dangerous.

Platt Has Another Conference with Quay WASHINGTON, May 31.-Thomas C. Platt arrived in Washington last evening at 8:30, and went directly to the residence of Senator Quay, where he spent the evening. There he met several Republicans of prominence who are representing candidates Reed and Allison, and with them talked over their plans for defeating Mo Kinley's nomination at St. Louis. After the conference Mr. Platt went to the Arlington Hotel, where he spent the night. He left for New York this morning on the 7:30 train. Sen ator Quay and the other gentlemen at the conference decline to state what took place.

Mr. Platt returned to the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday afternoon. He declined to talk about his visit to Washington.

Brank on a Wager and Bied.

WAYERBURY, Conn., May 31.—George Ecz may, aged 35, a Russian Jew, was in a Polish saloon on Bank street last night when he drank three pints of beer and three glasses of whiskey in five minutes on a wager. He was taken to his home, 36 South Riverside street, where he died fifteen minutes later.

THE BERMUDA'S EXCITING RACE

PRICE TWO CENTS.

TO ESCAPE TWO GUNBOATS. Thirty-two Members of the Recent Fifth bustering Expedition Missing - Portys nine Abandoned in Boats-War Motor rial Thrown Overboard in the Chaos.

PHILADELPHIA, May 31.-All conjecture regarding the whereabouts of the fillbustering steamer Bermuda were set at rest to-day when she steamed up the Delaware River and made fast to her pter. She came from Puerto Corten. Her cargo consisted of 8,400 bunches of bananas and 8,000 silver dollars. The silver was taken out to buy fruit, but a strike among the fruit cutters, coupled with the belief that the vessel was not bound on a legitimate voyage, made it impossible to secure a full cargo. The attempt to land her outward cargo and passengers on Cuban soll was a flat failure, and the escape of the vessel from destruction by Spanish shells was little short of miraculous. The Bermuda sailed from Philadelphia on April 23, in command of Capt. O'Brien, for Jacksonville. She satied from the latter port on April 26 in command of Capt. Riler, who ucceeded O'Brien.

The expedition was made up of twenty-size men from Key West, Tampa, and Philadelphia, in command of Gen. Leidal Vidal, a soldler of the former revolution, and a native of Santiago de Cuba

The cargo consisted of two Gailing guns, 1,000 rifles, a half million rounds of ammunition, and 1,000 pounds of dynamite. An attempt was made, under Gen. Vidal's orders, to land on the night of May 4 on the coast of Cubs, ten miles east of Cardenas. A Spanish gun boat was seen early in the evening, but it was thought she did not nor tice the Bermuda, and eight boats, with forty-nine men were in the water about one and a half miles from the coast when a searchlight from an approaching cruiser was flashed over the entire party, all bands were instantly in a state of hopeless demoralization, and a desperate attempt to get back to the stemper was made. Only a few, however, reached the Ber-muds, which started at once at full speed.

She had only run about three in which was second gunboat started in pursuit, which was She had only run about three miles when a kept up until daylight. There were repeated flashes and roars from the guns on the Spanish warship.

Solid shot and bursting shell fell thick and fast, until the distance between the vers creased largely, the Bermuda being forced to When day dawned the gunboat could not be seen. Two days later the steamer arrived at Truxillo. Honduras, the balance of the war material having been thrown overboard during the Fire of the party were drowned in attempting to make the landing, among them being Nicolo Cardenas, a brother of Col. Cardenas, an insurgent chief. The fate of the others is not known, but it is believed that the greater number were caught on the coast and shot by the Spaniards. At least thirty-two of the party are missing. The other passengers were landed on the co of Honduras, between Truxillo and Puerte Cortes, and afterward reached Mobile, Als., on the stramer Clearwater. Hayden West of Camden, and Adrian Eldridge of this city re-turned on the Bermuda. The fate of Dr. Emile Cabada is unknown, but he is believed to have been among those lost. It is said there is now little doubt but that the fore she left Jacksonville. LAUNCH'S SKIPPER WAS DRUNGE Three Beaths Caused by His Running Into Lizzie McKeen of 24 East 114th street, one of the persons thrown into the Harlem River op-posite 127th street Saturday evening in the collision between the University of Pennsylvania steam launch Ben Franklin and Transfer Boat No. 5 of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, died at the Harlem Hospital yesterday. The body of Katle Murray of the yesterday. The body of Katle Murray of the same address, who was drowned at the time of the accident, was recovered yesterday by a wrecking schooner. The body of Mabel Wolfer of 118 East 129th street, who was also drowned, has not been recovered.

Capt. W. W. Hamilton of the transfer boas and Frank McHugh, engineer of the Ben Frank-lin, were brought before Coroner Dobb yesterday, after being arraigned in the Hariem Police Court.

Capt. Hamilton told the Coroner that his boas was standing still at the time of the accident, and that the launch ran into it. Policeman Alfred J. Reed of the East 126th street squad corroborated this and the Coroner discharged Capt. Hamilton. corroborated this and the Coroner Capt. Hamilton.
Reed told the Coroner that McHugh, who ned charge of the launch, appeared to be drunk when he arrested him on Saturday night.
Coroner Dobbs committed McHugh to the Tombs in default of $5,000 bail on a charge of criminal negligence.

RISHOP POTTER AS PEACEMARES. Electrical Unions Invoko His Aid to Settio

Their Disagreement. The question of arbitration as a means of settling strikes came up at the Central Labor Union yesterday upon the report of Delegate Hoadley of Electrical Workers' Union No. 3 regarding the differences of his union with Local No. 5 of the Brotherhood of Electrical Worksra No. 5 of the Brotherhood of Electrical workers.

He said that Bishon Potter had agreed to present the differences between the two unions for arbitration before the New York Council of Mediation and Arbitration, of which the Bishop is President.

Mr. Hoadley, who has frequently declared

Mr. Hoadley, who has frequently declared that strikes were boomerants and generally reacted against the trades unions, made a speech in favor of arbitration. He said that while arbitration could not be made mandatory, yet the day of strikes was drawing to a close, and by degrees arbitration would, to a large extent, take the place of them.

Delegate Hoadley's report was accepted. Briefs will be prepared by both sides giving the history and progress of the quarrel and they will be given to Hishop Potter. The arrangements for the arbitration will be completed in a few days. In case the council gannot come to a decision, Bishop Potter will be asked to act as a umpire, and all hands will be bound by his decision.

TRAIN WRECKING ATTEMPT. An Engine Sirikes Ties Placed on the Ratis-Flight of a Wrecker

PROVIDENCE, May 31 .- Another attempt was made to wreck a passenger train on the Consolidated Railroad near Olneyville last evening. Ties were placed on the track in front of a Pawtucket Valley train due in this city at 8:05 tucket Valley train due in this city at 8:08 o'clock. One of the ties was caught in the machinery under the locumotive. This tie was cat in two, and one half was reduced to slivers, while the other half was wedged in the under part of the engine. The train passed over a second tie, placed nearly a hundred yards beyond the first one, but the train did not leave the rails.

A few minutes afterward a railroad man in a signalling tower near by saw a man on the outward track, and on turning a light upon him found that he was placing a bar of iron four feet long across the rails. When the light was turned upon him the man fied and escaped.

HER LEG CUT OFF BY A HORSE CAB.

Neille Thompson Run Bown in Second Avenue-She May Die. Neftie Thompson, 23 years old, of 323 East Twenty-first street, was run over last evening at Twenty-first street and Second avenue by a horse car. Her right leg was nearly cut off below the knee by the wheels. She was taken to Bellevue, where the mangled limb was amputated shortly before midnight. Her condition is very The driver of the car. Matthew Rader of 412 East Seventy-first street, was arrested for realises driving.

The woman he ran over was employed as 6 soda-water fountain at 423 Second, years.

intended landing place of the Bermuda was